

Contents This Month
V
Choosing the Right Padlock
Opening Doors
With Credit Cards
Do It Yourself
Computer Security
Computers and
Home Security

SECURITY NEWS

IT'S YOUR SECURITY

Regardless of Size, Nothing Can Outfly the Fly

When it comes to speed and agility, nothing can rival the average housefly. Only the fly is able to fly backwards and upside-down, an ability yet to be engineered in even billion dollar military aircraft. And when it comes to breaking and maneuvering, the fly can outperform anything, this side of a George Lucas film.

We are also quick and agile. Quick to respond to emergencies, agile enough to anticipate and react strategically to your problems.

And while only the fly can successfully land upside-down, we are willing to try almost anything to service your security needs.

